Janie L. Hemenway, her art, like herself, has delicacy, passion and insight. She has matured into a reflecting authority and an extraordinary woman with a unique spirit. She is fortunate to possess both the talent and historical background to become a desirable and collectible artist. PBS aired her "Fridays In The Park Series" for artists and writers. Painting for over fifty years her passion for art brings interpretive sense into the condition of the creative mind. She enjoys helping others with philosophical concepts to help students search inside themselves for inspiration to develop their own style and meaning.

Familiar with modern, abstract and contemporary works of art, her heart is with the pre-Raphael masters.

Originally from New York she presently resides in Florida after living in the desert community of Tucson, Arizona.
